Introduction

The prices on fine Irises, Peonies, Phloxes and Gladiolus, the finest flowers for the home, have been reduced so materially the past few years that every home lover can easily acquire the finest of varieties for a small expenditure. There is a pleasure in growing beautiful flowers and in making your home attractive that cannot be anticipated. Named varieties increase this interest enabling you to look forward each year to a definite time when you can expect those certain varieties to bloom.

Rainbow Gardens has had the reputation for many years of growing the finest varieties and are constantly adding new and improved varieties.

You are invited to visit our Gardens and see our flowers in bloom. In our Exhibition Garden we have over 700 varieties enabling you to pick out the colors and varieties you prefer. We will be glad to help our customers at any time in making their selections.

We thank you for past favors and solicit your further patronage, assuring you at all times of our co-operation.

How To Order By Mail

Orders: When sending orders please use the Order Blank furnished with this catalogue, being very careful that your name and address are written plainly.

All orders are booked in the rotation in which they are received. The earlier they come in the more certain will be the patron of securing the plants and bulbs of his choice. All sales are made subject to stock on hand at time of filling order.

Terms: Cash should accompany each order. Remittances can be made by post office or express money order or bank draft or check.

On account of the expense of handling we cannot fill orders amounting to less than $1.00.

Prices: All prices in this catalog are net and will not be deviated from as we wish to treat everyone alike.

Shipping Facilities: We prepay delivery charges on Tulips and Gladiolus. Peonies, Irises and Phloxes are shipped either by express or by parcel post the purchaser paying charges. We pack in cartons whenever possible and the charge for shipment, usually by parcel post, is a very small item. Customers who desire us to prepay express charges or parcel post can remit enough to cover and any surplus will be returned, or if preferred extra plants will be sent to cover the difference. We will deliver orders free of charge to either St. Paul or Minneapolis, or within fifty miles of our Gardens.

Orders for Irises, Peonies and Phloxes received after the ground freezes in the fall will be forwarded early the following spring.

Quality of Stock: We propose to send out strong plants and sound bulbs true to name and hold ourselves in readiness at any time to replace, on proper proof, any stock that may prove otherwise: but we shall not at any time be liable for any amount greater than the original price of the stock. Every purchase is made from us on these terms.

Complaints: If any, as to quality of goods, etc., can be entertained only when made immediately on receipt of goods.

Substitution: Carrying as we do, such a large number of varieties of roots, etc. it is obvious that at times, particularly at the end of a season, we may be unable to furnish some varieties. Therefore we ask permission to substitute varieties of ~~Irises~~ of equal merit in their place. On our order blank please fill in yes or no on the correct line. If you do not wish us to substitute we will return your money for the varieties not supplied. In case you write neither "yes" nor "no" we shall understand that you do not object to our substituting as above.

Packing: We make no charge for packing. After they pass out of our control we do not guarantee that they will live as we then have no control over conditions surrounding them and the care they will receive.

The Pleasure of a Garden

AS SPRING draws near we look forward to our gardens awakening.—So do you, do you not, dear Customer? If you have not had the thrill that anticipates the first spring flower, you have missed half of your life.

In sending you our catalog this year, we desire to again quicken your interest in gardening, the most enjoyable as well as profitable hobby it is possible to have. Interest in gardening is a diverter of business cares, improves the home in appearance and value and makes it more sacred and satisfying, promoting the hospitality of your neighbors and friends as well.

Our thoughts turn to hundreds and hundreds of our customers who have told us personally and by letter of their individual gardens, the pleasures they derive from them and the pleasure they give others. Constantly we hear from customers that their gardens were the attraction that enabled them to sell the old home at a good profit, and arranging for choice flowers for their new gardens.

We are ready to help you add to your garden, or, if you are a new home maker, to start you in the pleasure of making a garden.

Perennials and bulbs give the finest flowers and the best of the perennials and bulbs are Irises, Peonies, Phloxes and Gladiolus. All these we can supply you in the finest range of colors and choicest varieties.

The purchase of beautiful flowers is no longer a difficult task. The different flower Societies have rated many of the Irises, Peonies and Gladiolus, as hereafter explained, so that the task of selecting is easy. As we carry only the higher rated and moderately priced varieties, in purchasing from us, you are assured of the finest of flowers for your garden.

We are always pleased to hear from our customers as to their gardens and as to their success with out roots and bulbs.

RATINGS

Peonies and Irises have been rated by the American Peony Society and the American Iris Society, these Societies having published Symposiums of votes by their members upon the merits of the different varieties in general cultivation. Ten points means that the variety is perfect, 9 nearly perfect, 8 extra good, 7 good, 6 medium. The first number denotes the rating and the number before the name of the variety our field and catalog number. In some cases the variety has not been voted on and there is no rating. Gladiolus have been rated by members of the American Gladiolus Society but in the case of Gladiolus 100 has been used as a basis of perfection instead of 10.

PEONIES (Hardy Perennials)

Flowering from May 25th to July 5th, depending on variety.

Peonies are amongst the best and most beautiful of the herbaceous plants. They are one of the hardest and are adapted to almost any soil. They require but little attention and withstand intense cold winters with no serious effects.

Our stock of peonies has been selected from the highest rated and most reliable of the distinct varieties.

We send our customers good three to five eye roots true to name and our prices are as low as we can possibly make them commensurate with the quality and correctness of the stock furnished. One and two eye divisions offered by some firms do not prove satisfactory, often developing into sickly or diseased plants and not flowering for a considerable length of time.

We also offer in many of the varieties two and three year clumps to enable our customers to obtain quicker results and a better showing in their gardens.

Planting and Care: Peonies may be planted and are shipped in April and May before the growth is too far advanced and in the fall from early in September until the ground freezes in November. Plant from three to four feet apart. Do not cover the eyes or new buds with over two to three inches of soil. Too deep planting prevents blooming. Do not let manure come in contact with the roots as this will cause club root and sickly plants. Bone meal is a good fertilizer to use.

The first number denotes the rating of the peony, according to the American Peony Society, and the number immediately before the name of the variety our field and catalog number. As to ratings, see top of page.

IRISES (Hardy Perennials)

Flowering from April 25th to August 1st depending on variety.

The Iris is a magnificent hardy perennial. They are the most satisfactory and beautiful perennial in the garden. They flower during a long period of time; require practically no care; multiply rapidly; grow in practically any kind of soil; are inexpensive; gorgeous in coloring, which with their fragrance gives them a charm not possessed by any other flower; they withstand extreme heat and cold and are the best drought resisters amongst the perennials.

The stately habits of Irises, their gorgeous effects, their wonderful coloring and their freeness of bloom have well entitled them to the name of the "Orchid of the Hardy Garden," but Irises have the advantage of the orchid in delicacy of structure and in greater facility of culture.

Planting and Care. Irises should be planted in April and May as soon as the roots have sufficient growth to permit transplanting and in the fall from August 1st until the ground freezes in November. Fresh manure should not be used as a fertilizer as it rots the roots. Bone meal is always a safe as well as a good fertilizer. The roots should be planted so that the top of the root is at least two inches below the surface and from two to two and one-half feet apart. The dwarf Irises, however, can be planted closer. We advise covering all Irises with a light covering of marsh hay or straw as soon as the ground freezes, where winters are severe, to prevent the roots freezing out.

The first number denotes the rating of the Iris, according to the American Iris Society, and the number immediately before the name of the variety, our field and catalog number. As to ratings, see page 4.

In the descriptions of the Irises the S refers to the Standards or upright petals and the F to the Falls or drooping petals.

Dwarf Early Bearded Hybrid Crimean Irises

April and Early May Flowering Irises

These are excellent plants for permanent borderings or rockeries, growing from 6 to 18 inches high, and flower during April and May. They are very hardy, succeed in almost any soil or situation, thriving in a dry sunny location same as the Tall Bearded Irises. When planted in a double row, about four inches apart, they make a very effective edging. They can also be planted in front of the taller varieties.

Culture. Same as the Tall Bearded Iris.

Intermediate Bearded Irises

May Flowering Irises

The Intermediate Irises comprise a new group of hybrids derived mostly from crosses between the Dwarf Crimean Irises and the Tall Bearded Irises, forming an intermediate race, both in height, and period of blooming. The flowers are very large, most beautifully colored, growing from 12 to 18 inches in height and bloom two weeks before the Tall Bearded Irises, viz: from about May 10th to June 1st in this latitude, thus forming a connecting link between the Dwarf Crimean Irises and the handsome Tall Bearded Irises.

Tall Bearded Irises (Pogoniris)

Late May and June Flowering Irises—Fleur-de-lis

The flowers are large and exceedingly handsome and most of them deliciously fragrant and are in bloom during late May and June. Their beauty outrivals that of the Orchids in their delicacy of structure and wide range of coloring. There are the richest yellows, the most intense purples, delicate blues, the softest mauves and beautiful claret-reds. There are also whites, primroses and bronzes of every shade. They are especially adapted for flower borders, shrubberies, woodland walks and wild gardens and for surrounding lakes and ponds. If planted around pools or lakes they would be placed well above the water level.

Unless otherwise specifically stated, where 6, 12 or more roots of one variety of Iris are ordered same will be furnished at the following prices, viz:

Beardless Irises (Apogon)

These Irises are hardy and quite distinct from the Bearded Irises. They are tall and beautiful and a number of them may be treated as semi-aquatics.

No Iris, no matter how much it loves moisture, will thrive well where water stands in winter, except our native water flag (Versicolor) and the European yellow flag (Pseudo-Acorus) which may be grown partially in water, and are unexcelled for ponds and boggy places. Plant if possible in early autumn or spring.

Beardless Irises—Section 2

Late June and July Flowering.

The Irises in this group, besides being handsome subjects for the flower and shrubby border, may be planted by the waterside, but with their crowns above the water-level. The varieties are grand and stately plants, growing from 3 to 5 feet in height, with beautiful erect, dark green foliage, which retains its beauty until well into winter. Grown together in masses the effect is most striking and beautiful.

834—Guldenstadtiana Coerulea. Robust grower, foliage yellow in spring, changing to green and remains green until snow comes; flowers blue. July. 50c.

848—Spuria, Mrs. A. W. Tait (syn. Longipetala Superba). Porcelain-blue, with long pale blue falls, having a golden blotch at the base; fine foliage, free bloomer, and very hardy. Fine for massing. Foliage remains green until late fall. 3 feet. 35c each. $3.50 per dozen.

849—Spuria Notha. Rich violet; blue, spotted yellow; handsome; very strong grower. 3 ft. 35c.

Beardless Irises—Section 3

June and July Flowering

Irises suitable for planting by the waterside, and in very damp or wet places. These will also do well in any good, loamy soil that is kept well cultivated and mellow.

824—Pseudo-acorus (The Common Yellow Water Flag). Bright yellow; suitable for marshes and water course. These and Versicolor varieties are the only Irises that may be safely planted where water habitually stands. 3 ft. May and June. 25c. $2.50 per dozen.

825—Versicolor. A native species, common to our streams and marches, flowering in June and July, remaining in bloom a long time; very showy violet-blue flowers. 25c. $2.50 per dozen.

Japanese Iris (Iris Kaempferi) (Apogon)

Late June and July Flowering

The magnificence of Japanese Irises is such that no written description gives them justice. Some of the flowers measure from 10 to 12 inches. The prevailing colors are white, rose-purple, crimson, rose, lilac, lavender, silvery gray, purple, violet and blue; each flower usually representing several shades. They flower from late June to August 5th in this latitude.

Culture. These Irises are really semi-aquatic, and are seen in their full glory when grown at the water's edge.

They can be planted either as a water garden plant, or in a dry location. They can be planted at the margin of streams or ponds. In dry soils they can be grown to perfection if the ground is kept hoed. Always cover Japanese Irises with a good covering of straw or hay during the winter as they require protection during the winter.

As there is always a heavy demand and our stock is limited it is well to order early. They cannot be imported now and it is getting more difficult each year to obtain stock. They do not usually attain sufficient growth in the spring for transplanting until after May 10th. We only sell mixed varieties.

Mixed varieties of Japanese Irises 50c each; $5.00 per dozen.

LETTERS FROM CUSTOMERS

Mason City, Iowa, Oct. 30, 1926.

Many thanks for the immediate service. I have been buying for several years from some of the presumably biggest and best firms including and you are the first that ever gave me satisfactory service, without a lot of unexplainable and aggravating delay, in spite of the fact that draft always accompanied order. Irises ordered from Sept. 7th, have not been shipped me yet. Give me service like on this order and your catalogs, and you get all my future orders for such as you have in whatever I may need.

L. L.

Fort Collins, Colo. Sept. 30, 1926.

Two years ago I ordered from you a number of Irises that are especially beautiful. I do not have the names. I wonder if you could look my order up and let me know. I want to order again.

A. H. D.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 5, 1926.

The peony roots that I bought from you arrived in very fine condition, I am very well pleased with them. I expect to need some gladiolus in the spring and will remember you.

L. C. B.

Princeton, N. J., May 24, 1926.

I have just planted your clean, nice gladioli bulbs, and now I find you have Perry's Blue, Iris. Please send me a good root as quickly as possible.

Mrs. A. M. G.

Excelsior, Minn., May 17, 1926.

Gladiolus ordered arrived in good condition. Thanks for the extras.

PHLOXES—HARDY PERENNIAL

Flowering from June 20th until late in October, depending on variety.

Phloxes are hardy floriferous perennials, handsome for borders, in beds and amongst the shrubbery. For best effects they should be massed in solid colors of 3 or more roots of a variety. They can be used, however, as single specimens. They give a garden a wonderful color effect, flowering as they do from June until in October, and filling in a period between the Irises and Peonies and the Gladiolus.

Culture: They grow and succeed almost everywhere and in almost any position. and will do best in soil that has been enriched. Give a liberal supply of water during the flowering season. Plant at any time during the spring or late fall, spacing the roots from 15 to 18 inches apart. If the first spikes that bloom are removed as soon as over, they will produce a second supply of flowers continuing the display until late in the autumn. Clumps should be divided and replanted at least every fourth year. To prevent phloxes reverting to type do not allow them to go to seed. After freezing weather starts in in the fall cover the beds with straw or marsh hay as a protection.

Our Collection includes a number of the better varieties which produce large trusses of beautiful and brilliant flowers. Shipments are made in April and May and from Sept. 15th until the ground freezes.

Prices of all varieties—35c per root; $3.00 per dozen.

Antonin Mercier. Beautiful lilac with white eye.

B. Compté. Deep rich ox-blood red. One of the finest red shades; strong and large.

Beacon. A brilliant cherry red.

Champs Elysee. Fine rich purplish-crimson of compact form. Early and exceedingly attractive.

Europa. New. Large, well formed white flowers with crimson-carmine eye. Very large individual flower and truss. Sturdy erect habit.

Miss Lingard. Waxy white with lavender eye. Longest spikes of any Phlox; blooms from the ground up. Earliest of flower and continuing for a long period.

Mrs. Jenkins. White immense panicles. One of the best. Early.

R. P. Struthers. Rose carmine with claret eye. Very bright. Tall.

Rynstroom. Bright rose pink. Extra large flower and truss. Tall. Midseason to late.

Thor. A beautiful lively shade of pure salmon-pink, suffused and overlaid with a scarlet glow; has aniline-red eye.

W. C. Egan. A delicate lilac with fine large flowers.

Widar. Bright reddish-violet with large white center. Fine head.

See Prices above. One each of the above 12 varieties, $3.00; 3 of each (36 plants), $8.50; 6 of each (72 plants), $16.00.

LETTERS FROM CUSTOMERS

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 31, 1926.

Shipment of Irises was received in good condition and I thank you for the gratis.

B. H. B.

Plainview, Minn., Dec. 27, 1926.

Please send me your catalog for 1927. I had very good success with the gladiolus bulbs purchased from you last year.

H. S.

Hinsdale, Mont., Oct. 12, 1926.

I want some Tulips and Peonies from your Gardens for fall planting. My Glads and Irises I have had from your Gardens have done so well. Please send me your fall catalog.

Mrs. R. S. D.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 13, 1926.

We are much pleased with the roots and bulbs (Peonies, Irises and Phloxes) and shall anxiously await their next flowering season.

GLADIOLUS (Bulbs)

Flowering from July 15th until October, depending on variety.

For beautiful flowers from July until late fall there are none so dependable and magnificent or that give more satisfaction than gladiolus. As cut flowers, they have no peer and when planted in clumps and masses in the garden they invariably make a grand showing.

A number of exquisitely beautiful varieties have been introduced the past few years and after several years of experimenting and discarding we are offering a collection of the best and choicest varieties, any one or all of which the flower lover will be justly proud of. In purchasing gladioli bulbs it is best to get what is worth while and the best named varieties give the most satisfaction. By ordinary care and in cutting as explained below, your collection will steadily increase so that your garden will soon have a considerable showing.

When To Order The Bulbs. Orders for gladiolus are shipped in November, weather conditions permitting, and from April 1st until May 25th, when we plant our stock. Shipments ordered during the winter must be at the purchaser's risk. We send out first-class, sound, northern grown bulbs of large size. Some varieties do not make as large bulbs as others, however. Send in your order as early as possible to assure early delivery and of the varieties desired for although we usually carry a large supply, the demand for our beautiful varieties is very heavy. All quotations are subject to stock being unsold on receipt of order. No substitution will be made except upon your directions.

Planting Instructions. If weather conditions permit start planting the first part of May and plant at intervals up to June 10th to secure a succession of flowers from July until late fall. It usually takes from 65 to 80 days from time of planting until flowering, depending on the variety, size of bulb, soil and weather conditions. If possible use a new location each year not planting in the same location oftener than every third year. If a good coating of manure is spaded in deeply in the fall and well spaded and pulverized in the spring, the soil will be in fine condition. If used only at planting, it is better to use high-grade commercial fertilizers such as bone meal, pulverized sheep manure or a liquid fertilizer applied to the soil near the rows but not too close to the bulbs. Deep planting is necessary in order to properly develop the new bulb which grows on top of the old one. Plant six inches deep with less on very heavy soils. Deep planting gives a heavy stalk and saves the necessity of using stakes. By planting the bulbs 4 to 6 inches apart in either single or double rows making your Gladiolus beds either round, oval, oblong or square and leaving a space of one and a half to two feet apart between the rows will allow sufficient room not only to plant a large number of bulbs but will give sufficient space between the rows for hoeing and cultivating and for hilling up the bulbs (same as for potatoes). This conserves the moisture around the bulbs and checks the growth of weeds and the space between the rows allows sufficient room to reach the flowers. To prevent soil crust forming keep the soil well worked. Thorough waterings in the evening during development aid considerably.

Cutting. When cutting the flowers leave at least two to four leaves. The bulbs need them to assist in their ripening. If the spikes are cut when the first buds open, their stems cut off a bit every day and the water changed, every bud will open. Treated in this way the flowers will last from ten days to two weeks.

Digging and care of the Bulbs. Before the ground freezes in the fall dig up the bulbs using a spading fork if possible. Take up the bulbs carefully if you desire to save the bulblets and cut off the stalk about one-half inch from the bulb. Allow to dry for a week or more before removing the old corm from the new bulb and the bulblets. The old corm is worthless and should be thrown away. Plant the bulblets the following spring in shallow trenches and the second year they should flower. After removing the old corm and bulblets allow the bulbs to be exposed to the sun or other heat until thoroughly dried and cured, then pack in bags or shallow boxes and place for the winter in a cool, dry place in the cellar where the temperature will not go below freezing point.

Ratings. The American Gladiolus Society has published a report with ratings on 150 varieties of Gladiolus from 65 large growers. Nearly all of our varieties have been included in this rating and those omitted will be rated later. See top of page 4.

As far as possible we give the name of introducer after name of variety. Prices quoted on Gladiolus include parcel post charges. No charge for packing. See directions for ordering on inside page of front cover.

Six bulbs will be furnished at dozen rates, 25 at the 100 rate.—
